The Virginian Offers to Purchase the Astor Estate.

HUNDRED AND FIFTY MILLIONS.

The Holdings of Mr. William Waldorf Astor Estimated at About That Figure-British Syndicate Is in It, Jefferson M. Levy has submitted an offer to William Waldorf Astor to buy all the latter's real estate in New York city. This property good judges estimate to be worth anywhere from $110,000,000 to $150,-000,000.

Mr. Levy, who will represent the Thir reenth district of this cky in the next Congress, is a large owner and operator in real estate. He is now in Lon for the William Waldorf Aster holdings comes in a private cable dispatch. Mr. Levy will sail, for New York next week and his friends here hope that he will

Astor holdings were marked in black on a map holdings were marked in black on a map of Manhattan and the Bronx it would be a very black looking map indeed. Take Broadway, between Chambers and Fourteenth streets. Not a block in that stretch but shows an Astor holding, and from Fourteenth to Fortr-second street, where W. W. Astor owns two Broadway corners, the great thorough-fare is dotted with Astor buildings. In the financial district Mr. Astor owns half a dozen big office buildings, and the hotels that pay rent to him includes the half a dozen big office billidings, and that hotels that pay rent to him includes the Waldorf, the Netherland and half of the Astor House. Blocks of dwelling houses and squares of vacant lots in Manhattan Island belong to him, and in the Bronx he holds vast tracts of land which will probably not be improved until popular tion moves up to and surrounds them. TO MAKE TEST ELSEWHERE.

Underground Trolley People in Correspondence with Washington.

It is probale that the Richmond inventor, Mr. Jenkins, will have to make the preliminary test of his underground trolley system in some other city than Richmond. Both of the electric rallway companies, it will be recalled, refused the courtesy of the use of its power and a car to make the test, and investigation of the cost of making the test here inde-pendently has led the underground syn-dicate to look around elsewhere for a suitable testing ground. is now in progress with Washington rall-way managers with reference to using their power and equipment in testing the their power and equipment in testing the underground system of Mr. Jenkins. The matter is still in abeyance, but the test, it is probable, will be made in Washing-ton shortly.

Mr. Jenkins discovered several days ago two instances of the destructive work of electrolysis in the form of fwo sections of small sipe-one of wrought and had been seten as with an acid, and if, as alleged, electrolysis is responsible for the damage, they constitute effective cumulative argument against electric propulsion by the trolley system.
